The Placer County Transportation Planning Agency, which serves as the Placer County ALUC and the lead agency under the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA), proposes to adopt Negative Declarations for the ALUCPs for Auburn Municipal and Lincoln Regional Airports. The proposed project involves updating the current Placer County Airport Land Use Compatibility Plan which was adopted in February 2014 for the two public-use airports.

The preparation of compatibility plans for public-use airports is required by the California State Aeronautics Act (Public Utilities Code Section 21670 et seq.). The purpose of the ALUCP is to promote compatibility between an airport and the land uses in its vicinity to the extent that these areas have not already been devoted to incompatible uses. The ALUCP establishes a set of compatibility criteria that the ALUC will use to evaluate the compatibility of land use proposals within the airport vicinity, as well as long-range airport development plans. Neither the proposed ALUCP nor the ALUC have authority over existing land uses, operation of the airport, or over state, federal, or tribal lands.

The proposed ALUCPs are regulatory in nature, and neither the project—the adoption of the ALUCPs—nor its subsequent implementation by local agencies will lead directly or indirectly to physical development or to any physical change to the environment. Based on the CEQA analysis performed, adoption and implementation of the proposed ALUCP will not create a potentially significant effect on the environment.
