Project Title: Big Tujunga Reservoir Restoration Project

Project Applicant: Los Angeles County Flood Control District

Project site is in the San Gabriel Mountains within the Angeles National Forest, Tujunga District (Section 1, T2N, R13W, SBBM) along Big Tujunga Canyon Road, approximately 7 miles north of the community of Sunland near Project Location: the Foothill Freeway (Interstate 210 Freeway).

Project Description:

On January 10, 2023, the Los Angeles County Flood Control District approved the Project and adopted the Revised and Recirculated IS/MND for the Big Tujunga Reservoir Restoration Project. The Project involves removal of between 2.1 mcy and 4.4 mcy of sediment from BTR and depositing the sediment in Maple Canyon SPS. The purpose of the Project is to maintain the capacity of the reservoir and protect the operability of the outlet works, which are necessary to protect life and property by attenuating storm water flow peaks and to capture locally generated water to support the region's water supply. Other minor activities include: hydroblasting to flush a stilling well on the dam crest; repair of the hydraulic sluiceway; access road paving and repair of the culvert crossing; slope protection measures adjacent to the spillway; rehabilitating the northern access ramp to safely access the reservoir bottom; installing a boat dock at the dam face; and performing minor coring on existing dam riser and installing a slide gate to facilitate dewatering.

This is to advise that the County of Los Angeles has approved the above (X Lead Agency or Responsible Agency) described project on 1/10/2023 and has made the following determinations: (date)
