Project Description (Proposed actions, location, and/or consequences).

AEC's existing land-based utilities systems in the project area consist of wooden utility poles, approximately 35 to 45 feet in height with single- or three-phase crossarm mounted distribution lines attached. The existing poles currently carry electric power distribution lines. The project includes replacement of approximately 3.1 miles of 34.5-kilovolt electricity transmission lines and construction of the Bautista Substation. The replacement transmission lines would be strung on the existing utilities poles. The replacement transmission line alignment would not be located on Cahuilla Reservation or U.S. Forest Service lands. The proposed Bautista Substation would consist of electrical distribution facilities.

Identify the project's significant or potentially significant effects and briefly describe any proposed mitigation measures that would reduce or avoid that effect.

- Archaeological Resources: Mitigation Measures ARC-1 (Environmental Constraints Sheet), ARC-2 (Retain a Project Archaeologist), ARC-3 (Cultural Resources Monitoring Program), ARC-4 (Native American Monitoring), ARC-5 (Avoidance and Temporary Fencing), ARC-6 (Unanticipated Discovery of Cultural Resources), ARC-7 (Unanticipated Discovery of Human Remains)
- Biological Resources: Mitigation Measures BIO-1 (Workers Environmental Awareness Program), BIO-2 (Preconstruction Focused Plant Surveys), BIO-3 (Preconstruction Special Status Wildlife Species Survey), BIO-4 (Nesting Bird Surveys), BIO-5 (Construction Best Management Practices), BIO-6 (Erosion Controls and Hazardous Materials Spill Prevention and Contingency Plan)
