Project Description (Proposed actions, location, and/or consequences).

The Brannan-Andrus Levee Maintenance District (BALMD) is proposing the Georgiana Slough Erosion Control and Habitat Enhancement Project to resolve upper slope erosion problems and a major lower slope undercutting issue along the right bank levee of Georgiana Slough, on Lower Andrus Island. The Proposed Project would involve construction of proven erosion control methods involving placement of quarry stone rip rap (or rock slope protection - RSP) at the toe of the levee, which doubles as a foundational base for a habitat bench that will be constructed along the entire length. Once completed, the Project would provide suitable erosion control to the levee utilizing recognized and effective erosion control methodologies and support fish-friendly habitat through the creation of wetland and riparian shaded riverine aquatic (SRA) habitat on the channel margin.

Identify the project's significant or potentially significant effects and briefly describe any proposed mitigation measures that would reduce or avoid that effect.

Impacts of the Proposed Project to the following resources would be less than significant with incorporation of the mitigation measures:

Air Quality
 Biological Resources
 Cultural Resources
 Geology/Soils
 Noise
 Tribal Cultural Resources

Impacts to all other resources were considered less than significant or would have no impact.

If applicable, describe any of the project's areas of controversy known to the Lead Agency, including issues raised by agencies and the public.

The project does not include any areas of known controversy.
